Judge Sharswood on Legal Tenders—Extract from His Opinion in the Case of Borie vs. Trott.

"On the whole, then, I am of the opinion that the provision of the act of Congress of February 26th, 1862, declaring the notes issued in pursuance of that act to be lawful money, and a legal tender, IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

"This renders it necessary that I should consider the other question which has been made, as to the effect of the special agreement to pay in lawful silver money of the United States. I am in favor of entering judgment for the plaintiff, but as a majority of the court are of a different opinion, judgment for the defendant."—Copied from the Philadelphia Age of February, 1864, where the opinion is published in full.

In the same copy of the Age is a carefully prepared eulogy of the Judge and his opinion, in which is the following:

"Judge Sharswood reasons upon and decides the case as if he were some lofty spirit sitting far above and out of the contentions and strifes of the world."

Will not the holders of greenbacks and Government bonds consider the Judge as quite too elevated and ethereal for such earthly honors as a seat on the Supreme Bench?

A NICOLSON PAVEMENT CONTRACTOR in Cincinnati has succeeded in getting himself into a peck of trouble by performing his work in a loose and careless manner. He doubtless made a low bid for the job and endeavored to pull up by half performing the work, using barely enough gravel, sand and tar to hide a woeful deficiency of blocks, strips, boards and nails. Complaint having been made to the authorities of the poor character of the work, Councils appointed a special Committee to investigate the manner of laying the pavement, the members of which had entire sections turned up to bear unmistakeable evidence against the oversharp contractor. Considerable public work is going on in our own city at the present time, and perhaps examination into its character might repay the trouble, as contractors sometimes will take slight advantages to turn an honest (?) penny.

CHAUNCEY BURR has furnished the Democratic press with a studied essay, in which he endeavors to prove that the whites and blacks are separate and distinct creations of the same Almighty Power—that they are not of the same blood, as the blood of one differs from the blood of the other as much as the hair of the white man's head from the wool that covers the negro's head—and that these differences are not the result of climate, but the creations of the all-wise and benevolent Father for some great purpose of his own. Since the Democrats have discovered that the "great purpose" for which the negro has been created is not to assist rebels into office, they have returned to their old animosities, and instead of courting the blacks, as heretofore, turn to proscribing and damning them with a will and zest quite amusing and refreshing.

THE conductors of the street railway cars of Cincinnati who were recently arrested on a charge of embezzling the funds of their employers, have each been held to answer the charge at court. The companies will learn that the best way to promote honesty is to pay their employees living wages, so that stealing will not have to be resorted to through necessity.

THE yellow fever is raging with fearful violence at Galveston, Texas. The mortality lists are large, the deaths averaging over twenty-eight per day. On Thursday it was computed that there were over one thousand cases in the city.

THE office of the Treasurer of Hamilton county, Ohio, is computed by the Cincinnati Commercial to be worth for the term of two years the snug sum of seventy thousand dollars. It is worth running for.

HON. HENRY BARNARD, the chief of the new National Department of Education, delivered an address at Boston a few days ago explanatory of the work of his department. The power given to it is very small. The law does not recognise any intention on the part of the Government to create a system of national education; nothing of the kind was contemplated. So far as the Commissioner is called upon to administer the law, his aim will be to carry out literally its provisions, to collect and disseminate information, so as to show the condition and progress of education in the States and Territories, so as to aid the people of the United States in establishing school systems. To show what he had already begun to do in the way of work, he mentioned that he had received applications for information from gentlemen in the Constitutional Conventions now being held in New York, Michigan and Maryland. He had received an application from Texas for information, so that they may act in the light of the experience of the old States, so as to enable them to establish their University on the right ground. He had received from the State of Georgia a request to frame a code of instruction for that State. He had received a letter from West Virginia asking for the best plan for school houses for rural districts. He had received an invitation from Tennessee to be present at a Convention at Knoxville, which is intended to take up the subject of education for the State. He had received a request from Nevada for documents by which they can organize a normal school for that State, so that they may know what is done on that subject in the Atlantic States.—N. Y. Times.

A CURIOUS fact about the Surratt jury has just come to light. It is stated by one of them that from the first moment they were locked up together between the adjournments each day, they were divided in their sentiments about the prisoner, eight favoring him and four condemning. While the arguments of the defense were going on, these eight continually sneered at Judge Pierrepont and Attorney Carrington in their rooms, and when they were locked up to find a verdict, they balloted, the result being eight votes for acquittal and four for conviction. Each side tried to convince the other, but without success to either. Then one of the jurors made three propositions, and asked that a vote be taken on them separately. These were, first, that Lincoln was assassinated; second, that the assassination was the result of a conspiracy; and third, that Surratt was in that conspiracy. Upon the first two propositions the vote was unanimous, but upon the latter the eight favoring acquittal refused under any circumstances to vote. These same men, however, tried to induce the four to pledge their word that nothing which took place in the jury-room should be divulged, especially the votes. The other four, however, would not agree to this.

—About forty thousand pounds of fossil ivory, that is to say, the tusks of at least one hundred mammoths, are bartered for, every year in New Siberia, so that in a period of two hundred years of trade with that country, the tusks of twenty thousand mammoths must have been disposed of, perhaps even twice that number, since only two hundred pounds of ivory is calculated as the average weight produced by a pair of tusks.

—An association has been formed in Atlanta, Ga., for the purpose of erecting a monument to President Lincoln. The reasons for the erection of the monument at this place are given as follows: Atlanta is the centre of the great railroad system of the South; it is accessible from all parts of the United States, and it is nearer the centre of the South than any other city.

CHINESE OUTRAGE TO AN AMERICAN VESSEL.

Admiral Bell has transmitted to the Navy Department the report of Commander Febiger, of the Ashuiot, of his investigation at the Island of Formosa. The Admiral is satisfied all the crew of the Bark Rover, except one Chinaman, were murdered, and that the barbarities of the savages cannot be permanently stopped until the government at Pekin be induced, by the action of the American and other foreign ministers at that Court, to occupy all the villages on the Bays on the east coast and thus drive the aboriginals back to the interior of the Island. The Admiral adds: "As there is no Government to deal within this matter, I shall proceed at once with this ship and one or two others to the South end of the Formosa and land small arms to scour the thickets and break up whatever nests the wretches may have there. The Department will perceive the difficulty of a force landed from the ships getting at a foe that live more like monkeys than men."

Commander Febiger gives an interesting account of his trip. He asked of the principal Chinese authorities of the Island an investigation of the case, and an armed force had been sent to capture the murderers. This was promised.

THE RECENT STORM

Caused great damage to new buildings, culverts, railway tracks, bridges, &c. Several families living in shanties along Tiber creek were saved from drowning by the police. Five of these buildings were entirely submerged and others filled to the second story. One family was found in a basement, where the water was three feet deep. Altogether five males, seven females, and a number of children were saved from death in their own houses. First street was in one portion an improvised river, and Seventh street, between M and the city limits, is impassable for vehicles. The dam at the intersection of Seventeenth street and the canal, suffered damage to the extent of several thousand dollars. Much damage was done to the peach crop and corn fields in the city.

The storm was terrific in Montgomery and Prince George counties, Maryland. The roads have been inundated, and travel is suspended. The Acquia Creek Railroad was completely submerged last night, but the road is all right now to Fredericksburg and Richmond. The New York train of last night, due here this morning, arrived late to-night.

UNITED STATES COURT.

The Blair County Counterfeiting Case—Testimony of "Detective" Franklin Continued—Evidence for the Government Closed—The Defense—"Detective" Butts Testifies.

The case of the United States vs. William Johnston, of Blair county, indicted for counterfeiting, was resumed on Friday at ten o'clock.

Mr. Howard proceeded with the cross-examination of Capt. Stephen D. Franklin, of Philadelphia:

Got one hundred and ninety-nine pieces of the counterfeit money from Johnston. Dont know that they are all here. I retained one or two pieces, as a sample; it was a new kind of counterfeit money; never had seen any of it before. What McAteer and myself marked at Dunn's hotel in Altoona was marked by both of us, our marks being upon each piece. When I arrived in Philadelphia I marked the remainder; before sealing up the package took out perhaps a dozen pieces. I think after sealing it I opened the package to show to my assistants. Said yesterday that I did not open it after sealing it until I sent it to Washington in June. I correct myself now. Have not corrected myself now, because I have ascertained that Butts is here; know he is here only by hearsay; have not seen him. A man by the name of Lacock is also here. Believe the money is now in the envelope in which I first placed it. I don't think I showed the package in Philadelphia to any person except Butts and Lacock, showed samples to different parties; our District Attorney at Philadelphia has some of it. The package itself will show how many pieces were taken out of it. [There are one hundred and sixty-eight pieces, the clerk counting them.] What I took out was for the purpose of informing the public what kind of counterfeit money was in circulation. No one had access to the drawer in which the package was locked, unless they would pick the lock. I did not tell Hutchinson that I would not have sent the money to Washington if it was not to raise money to pay him. The government paid me for the money I sent to Washington the price I represented to have paid for it, forty dollars. Forwarded to Washington the counterfeit money secured by my assistants. Receipts for money for services were forwarded to Washington before money was paid. Such was the order of the Department. All vouchers were forwarded before money was paid. I think a voucher in the case of Butts was forwarded, the order for the money received in his absence, and I appropriated it to another purpose. Forwarded receipts for Hutchinson and gave him his money. Hoey was never in my employ.

Mr Carnahan at this point stated that so far he had not interposed any objection to the cross examination, which had taken a wide range. It seemed there was nothing in the private character of Captain Franklin that was to be left untouched. The cross-examination was entirely irrelevant to the examination in chief.

Mr. Purviance said they proposed to show to the satisfaction of the Court and the jury that the witness was steeped in crime, and to do this they must take the testimony link by link in the chain. If the witness would not acknowledge what was asked him, the defense proposed to contradict him, and had the evidence to do it. It was the custom to forward vouchers to Washington before the receipt of money, but they would show that instead of paying over the money received to Butts, the witness had given him counterfeit money.

Mr. Carnahan—What has this to do with the examination in chief?

The Court—The offer is overruled.

Mr. Howard—Did you tell Butts in Philadelphia, in February last, that you were connected with the Schuylkill Rangers, and that in addition to your other business you were connected with thieves and burglars, calling them "kuncks" and "cracksmen," and at the same time show him tools and offer to instruct him in their use?

Witness—I may have instructed him to form such associations for detective purposes. I have in my house a set of skeleton keys, which have never been out of my possession. These I may have shown in order to deceive persons for detective purposes. I was instructed to use all honorable means to detect counterfeiters. I have had forwarded from Washington to me implements, for counterfeiting, which have never been returned.

Mr. Howard—Do you mean to say that you represented you were a thief and burglar, and told falsehoods to detect counterfeiters?

Witness—I do sir. That is part of a detective's business—to associate with thieves and burglars, to get evidence against them. Not much would be gained by telling such men the truth.

The witness was further cross-examined as to his operations at Altoona. He said he had kept out of sight as much as possible as there were persons in Altoona who knew he was a "detective" officer. He had employed McAteer to operate for him. He left on the train, leaving McAteer, and had not seen him since; had heard of him from various sources.

Mr. Howard—Did you say anything to Butts about having McAteer here as a witness?

Witness—When Butts came to see me at Philadelphia, he told me that if McAteer was found in Pittsburgh as a witness they would send him to the Penitentiary. Don't remember exactly what my reply was. The substance of it was that I was the important witness in the case and it might be prosecuted in the absence of McAteer. It was represented to me that McAteer was connected with the Pennsylvania Railroad, as baggage master or brakeman; never knew certainly what his business was. Knew him by reputation for over a year through Hutchison, and was working with him in this case since last summer. Don't know that he was a man who dealt in counterfeit money, but he was represented to me as a reliable man. On that representation I made application to have him employed as an assistant under me, but did not succeed.

The examination as to the sealing of the counterfeit money package was resumed, and questions previously repeatedly asked again put to witness. The Court said it had a great deal of patience, but protested against the repetition of questions. The witness was permitted to sit down, having been on his feet for over an hour.

Direct examination resumed—I was removed as an operative of the secret service department with the remainder of the force in the eastern district. Here is the order of my removal.

Mr. Carnahan read the paper. It bore date June 3d, '67, notified S. D. Franklin, Esq., of Philadelphia, that his services as an operative of the Secret Service Division were no longer required, and directed him to forward his account for settlement. Accompanying the order, which was signed by "W. P. Wood, Chief of S. S. Div.," was another paper (similarly addressed and signed) setting forth that "want of harmony of action by operatives in your district caused the removal of all employees in said district." The paper concludes as follows: "I have ever entertained a very favorable opinion of yourself as a gentleman. The action taken was not from lack of confidence in you, but because it was believed such course was best calculated to be beneficial to the interests of the Division in the Judicial District in which you operated."

Mr. Carnahan proposed and commenced to read an official letter from the Treasury Department at Washington concerning the case on trial, and commendatory of the witness Franklin.

Mr. Purviance objected—The letter could not properly be given in evidence, as the party writing it could have been produced, and it was moreover but an expression of opinion, which a witness would not be allowed to give on the stand.

Mr. Carnahan said the defense had traveled far from the proper course in their cross-examination; had asked witness the most insulting questions. He proposed to sustain the character of the witness by the reading of the letter.

The Court sustained the objection raised, and the letter was not read.

Direct resumed—Efforts have been made to secure the attendance of the man McAteer. The man Wm. Hutchinson was the first who gave me information concerning the defendant Johnson, and was specially employed in reference to this case. It was on the recommendation (a letter) of Governor Curtin that I recommended the employment of Butts in the service, and secured his appointment. Butts afterwards told me that Governor Curtin did not know anything about him: that he had "beat the Governor." Butts acknowledged to me that he was a fugitive from justice, and that a charge was pending against him for selling counterfeit money in Philadelphia. I am one of his sureties. Hutchinson has approached me as many as twenty times about this case of Johnston. He proposed that I should give him a package of $100 in counterfeit money, placing a few of the pieces that I had obtained from Johnston on the outside; then he would proceed to Altoona, show Johnston the money, destroy the package in his presence, thus leading him to believe that the case could not be tried, and by this means obtain from him two or three thousand dollars. He made this proposition since the arrest of Johnston and since both of us have ceased to be connected with the secret service division. Had no particular desire to prosecute Johnston, having ceased to be an officer. I made a report of the case, and returned the counterfeit money to Washington. Mr. Fendricks, an officer of the Government, came to my house in Philadelphia, with an order directing me to prosecute Johnston, and I considered it my duty to do so.

Richard M. A. Fendricks, sworn—I am an officer of the secret service department. Reside at Washington City, D. C. I arrested the defendant, William Johnston. On the 16th of July I was ordered by the chief of the division at Washington to proceed to Western Pennsylvania and use my best endeavors to secure the arrest of Johnston, the defendant, and bring him before the proper authorities; was also instructed to visit Mr. Franklin, and confer with him on the subject. Called upon Mr. Franklin, in Philadelphia, at his residence. He made the information upon which the warrant was issued, at my instance as an operative, acting under orders from the Department. I brought with me from the Department at Washington, a package of counterfeit money, and gave it into your (District Attorney's) possession. (Identifies the envelope and the money, the same as testified to by Captain Franklin.) I obtained it from the confidential clerk of the Department at Washington, who was acting in the absence of Col. Wood.

Mr. Cameron, Cashier of the U. S. Depository, testified that the money which had been offered in evidence was counterfeit, the best of the kind yet manufactured. It had been in circulation about six months; every day it was brought to the Depository.

J. M. Lindsay, sworn—Reside at 248 South 12th street, Philadelphia; have lived there fifteen months; formerly lived in Blair county; was born and resided there until 1866; have known defendant since 1838; have not seen counterfeit money in his possession. In 1865, on my return from a trip to Baltimore, I went to see Johnson at Altoona, to get a conveyance, having missed the branch train to Hollidaysburg. Went to his room; he was not in; saw some green fifty cent pieces attached to a newspaper; they were wet. Went out and met Mr. Johnson on the stairs; he asked me if I had been to his room, and whether the door was locked; told him I had, and that the door was unlocked: he said "g—— dam it, I thought I had locked the door." The room was on the fourth story of the building; was occupied as an office and sleeping room by Johnston. The papers, with the money sticking to them, were tacked against the wall; did not examine the fifty cent piece. (Shown one of the first issue, 1862, with the "Washington head.") This looks like one of them. Johnston went to his room, came down again, and gave me a conveyance to go to Hollidaysburg.

The evidence for the United States here closed.

THE DEFENSE.

Hon. S. A. Purviance opened the case for the defense. After alluding to the age of the defendant, fifty-seven years, and the probabilities of his guilt as viewed in connection therewith, Mr. P. stated the defense would consist in showing that the "detective," Franklin, was unworthy of belief. They would produce the parties named in the course of the cross-examination, by whom they expected to show the untruthfulness of "detective" Franklin's testimony.

James Dunn, sworn—Did not see Franklin, to my knowledge, at my house in Altoona, on the 10th of April last. Know McAteer; he was never at my house with Franklin. McAteer was at my house on the 19th of April; did not pay his bill; he got six meals. Never saw Franklin to my knowledge until I saw him here in Pittsburgh.

To the Court—Can't say whether I was at home on the 10th of April. McAteer was not at my place on that day.

Cross-examined—My house is about two rods from the railroad—on the same side of the street, and about a square from the Logan House. Have no recollection of a railroad contractor, dressed in corduroy pantaloons, being at my house on the 10th of April last; I furnish meals to railroad passengers; do not remember every person who takes a meal at my house; McAteer came to my house in April; owes me for six meals and a drink, two dollars and fifty cents. I was absent at Broadtop in the latter part of March; came home on the day before Easter, sometime about the first of April. In my absence a boy, fifteen or seventeen years of age, named Brown, attends for me; he is still in my employ; have been keeping tavern for about two years. McAteer was also at my house on the first of April.

[The Almanac was referred to and the fact ascertained that Easter Day was the 21st of April.]

B. F. Butts, sworn—Resided for the last year in Philadelphia. Know S. D. Franklin; have known him from the 29th of this month one year ago. Had business with him and others with him. Know Pat. McAteer. Was not in Court when Franklin testified that he had not seen McAteer since the 10th of April, last. That is not true. I saw McAteer in the Gibbons House, 1220 Market street, Philadelphia, on the 28th of April; he remained there some four or five days. Walked down town with him, to Independence Square, to the Detective Office. We commenced talking about Mr. Franklin. On that day we did not see Mr. Franklin. McAteer showed me some "Spinner head" counterfeits. Saw Franklin and McAteer together on the next day, the 29th of April, at Fifth and Chestnut, and afterwards, on the 1st of May, at the Gibbons House. McAteer, Franklin, Lacock, Hutchinson and some others were there; were drinking and talking together. Do not know whether Franklin saw him after that. On the 22d or 23d of July last Franklin first mentioned Johnston's name, although he had spoken of the case before. Went to Franklin's house; asked me where I had been; I said to Pittsburgh; said he had been there, looked all around, but could not find me. I said I saw by the papers that he had made an arrest up there; said he had. I asked him what he was going to do with the case. Said he did not care about prosecuting Johnston, owing to the way the Department at Washington had treated him, and that he would like to see Johnston coming around with some of his money. Asked him if he knew where McAteer was; said he did not; that they did not want him at all; that he (Franklin) was sufficient to convict Johnston. Before this he said he had a case up the country, and said he would make more money out of it than we ever made out of a case; did not know he referred to the Johnson case, or of his having any other; do not know whether Franklin had any knowledge that M'Ateer was in the counterfeit business. M'Ateer showed me counterfeit money. Know of the Schuylkill Rangers by reputation; Franklin told me he was a "king boy" among them. He told me he was among thieves and burglars, with them in their holes, when they made up their plots, and there when they brought in their plunder. After I had been up the country, and whilst we were quarreling about our money being kept back, Franklin asked me why I had not "shoved" the counterfeit which he had given me.

To the Court—Received the counterfeit money from Franklin as an officer of the Government. Nothing was said about "shoving" until I came back.

Mr. Howard—In what connection did he use the word "shoving."

Witness—When I complained about not getting my money, he asked why I had not shoved the counterfeit he gave me.

Remember the case of Stewart and Cooper in Philadelphia. Worked it up myself. After it was over, Franklin swore at us and said we did not swear as we ought to have sworn. Told him I would not swear to anything I did not know for the whole Treasury Department; that I had sworn to all I knew; Franklin went off swearing. Previous to the trial of that case, he told he had a witness who would swear to anything. [The witness exhibited a "willingness" that caused the Court to caution the counsel for the defense to put their interrogatories distinctly, and observe more closely those which had been put to Franklin with a view to contradict him.] From my knowledge of the reputation of Franklin, I would not believe him under oath.

Cross examined—I am twenty six years of age; went into the army in April, 1862; went in as eighteen, but I was not that old; did not swear that I was eighteen; had the consent of my parents. Was in Co. A. 105th Regiment, Col. E. A. McKnight, recruited principally from Western Pennsylvania. I went from Stroudsburg, Monroe county, to New York to enlist; from there went to Newport News; had not then enlisted; an officer put me through. Was mustered in at Yorktown, Va. I was a printer in Stroudsburg, before I went into the army. I re-enlisted as a veteran; received United States and county bounty; say on my oath that I did not receive three or four bounties. Knew in the army a man named David W. Goheen; belonged to the same company; he was tried here for counterfeiting. Went to Governor Curtin, told him I knew of persons in the counterfeiting business, and thought I could do the Government some good. This idea struck me from observing opportunities to buy counterfeit money. Went to Governor and asked him to give me a letter of introduction to some officer, which the Governor gave me. At the time I was working up the case against Stewart and Cooper, I made reports to Colonel Wood of my operations; testified on the trial to the same facts substantially as I had reported them. I answered all the questions that were put to me. The District Attorney told me to make no statements, but simply answer questions.

Witness was closely questioned as to his statement (in contradiction of Mr. Franklin) that he saw Franklin and McAteer together in Philadelphia. He was positive he saw them there on the 29th of April; had not first said it was the 28th of April; could not tell the day of the week, might have been Thursday or Friday, but would not pretend to be certain; saw them together again on the first of May; did not know that Mr. Franklin was in Washington City on that day (May 1st.) On the 3d of May witness went to Harrisburg.

The cross-examination was continued at considerable length. It appeared that Butts, Hutchinson, Lacock and Hoye were advised not to show themselves, in order that Captain Franklin might not know of their attendance as witnesses previous to his examination. They are boarding at the Union Exchange Hotel, at East Liberty. Butts stated that he had been for some time in communication with officer Hague, and said he had followed here from Philadelphia a gang of thieves. He put himself in communication by letter with officer Hague, after hearing of the robbery of Simonton's jewelry store, thinking he might be of some service in "turning up" the parties who committed it, and his representations were such that Mr. Hague visited him in Philadelphia.

The case already presents some interesting features, and promises to become still more interesting.

The Court at three o'clock adjourned till ten o'clock to-day.

Damage to Virginia Railroads—Accident to a Freight Train.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, August 16.—The rain throughout the State ceased to-day. The Central, Danville and Fredericksburg Railroads all sustained damage. The washing away of a portion of the Danville road, near Powhattan station, caused a freight train to break through, killing the fireman and badly wounding two others.

ALEXANDRIA, August 16.—A contract has been made for rebuilding the Manassas Gap Railroad.

—Ira Aldridge, the negro tragedian, during the past thirty years, was made much of in Europe, grew rich, married a Swedish lady of rank, and was classed as an actor of merit. Mr. Aldridge went to Europe some thirty years since as body servant to the elder Wallack, and, as it were, by that humble association with that great actor, imbibed sufficient spirit and skill to come out as a performer himself, playing Othello in England and Ireland. Mr. Aldridge struggled with great pertinacity aginst early adversity, and died in the enjoyment of considerable wealth.

—Three men were arrested five years ago for committing a murder in Coventry, R. I., but were discharged for want of evidence. They have been again arrested, and a woman named Wood testifies that the accused had the murdered man in her cellar for a fortnight and then threw him into the river, where he was found. She had been intimidated by them until now. The examination took place on Saturday, and the three men committed. The murdered man's name was Andrew; the crime was committed for $16.

—Co-operative shipbuilding has been for a number of years in successful operation in Novia Scotia and New Brunswick. A number of individuals join to build a vessel, in say sixty-four shares, distributed as may be found convenient, the payments being spread over as long a time as will probably be required to build the vessel. Under this system there is always a considerable number of persons whose interest it is to secure freights, etc., for the vessel.

—American publishers, it is complained by the Paris correspondent of the American Publishers' Circular, have almost entirely neglected the Exposition. He states that American newspapers and periodicals are entirely unrepresented there, and thinks this is quite lamentable, as it tends to lower the estimation held of the United States in the minds of foreigners who have a strong conviction that the United States publish few books and have no literature.

—Cape May is losing its reputation as a fashionable resort.

Severe Rain Storm—Great Damage to Property—Railroad Travel Interrupted—Accidents to Trains—Loss of Life, &c., &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, August 16.—One of the severest rain storms for years has taken place, lasting from Wednesday evening till this morning. Many of the streets were flooded, the water running from one to two feet on the first floors of stores and dwellings, causing considerable loss.

The houses of the factory people at the Clipper factory were all flooded, and the occupants had to be removed in boats.

All the factories and flouring mills in and adjacent to the city are much damaged. Woods' steam sugar refinery sustains heavy loss.

Travel on the Baltimore and Ohio, Western Maryland, Northern Central, and Philadelphia Railroads, is interrupted by the washing away of culverts, &c. On the Northern Central the down train this morning was unable to reach the city in consequence of the engine breaking into a culvert near Woodberry, where it now lies buried in the stream. In falling the engine crushed the great water main which supplies the Mount Royal reservoir, rendering it necessary to shut off the supply.

The Philadelphia road, near the city, in many places is several feet under water, and owing to the uncertain condition of the road the usual morning trains did not go out. The through train from New York last night fell into a culvert fourteen miles from the city, breaking the express, baggage and mail cars and injuring Mr. Ford, express agent, Flandreu, of New York, and Easton, of Philadelphia, mail agents, and baggage master Ransom was also slightly hurt. No one was killed.

The damage to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is expected to be repaired so that trains will be running regularly to-morrow.

There are many rumors of loss of life in the city; only two seem authentic. A white man and a boy of about fourteen years were carried off by the violence of the waters.

Reports from the surrounding country indicate that the loss is immense, the whole country being inundated. The Falls turnpike was in many places five to ten feet under water. The damage to crops cannot now be estimated. It is still showery.

NASHVILLE, August 16.—The anti Burns' candidates for Directors of the Nashville & Chattanooga Railroad, defeated by the exclusion of the votes of the Charleston and Georgia Railroad and Banking Company, have organized and elected E. W. Cole President. They demand of Burns possession of the road. The demand was declined and the question goes to the Courts.

A full Radical ticket for Aldermen and Councilmen, embracing one colored man, was nominated last night.

Governor Brownlow has taken possession of the Memphis and Ohio Railroad, and appointed F. W. Spurling Receiver. The road failed to meet its obligations to the State.

The Convention to nominate a Radical candidate for Mayor meets to-morrow. Col. Alden will be nominated, but independent candidates will be run.

Col. Innes, Superintendent of the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad, will be dropped, and E. H. Ewing, Jr., elected in his place. Col. Innes will be Superintendent of the Nashville and Northwestern Railroad.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, August 16.—A young man named John J. Edwards was arrested in Beloit, Wisconsin, to-day, charged with defrauding the Union Savings Association, of this city, some months ago, of $15,000 to $18,000. Edwards was teller of the bank at the time, and allowed a gold broker here to overdraw his account for speculating purposes, in which it is supposed Edwards was interested. The bank will lose nothing, as Edwards' securities are responsible men.

The parties arrested in St. Joseph, for complicity in the burning of Platte River bridge, waived an examination yesterday and were bound over to appear at the next term of the Criminal Court.

Dexter was announced to trot a half mile under saddle, but not having been under saddle for about a year he felt rank, and the rider, who was not in good condition, was unable to hold him. He trotted a little, however, and at the speed he was making would have made the time in 1:07. The trot for four year olds and under, in harness, was won by Mollie Gold Dust, in three straight heats, in 2:49½, 2:47½ and 2:47½.

The Mutual Obligations of Parents and Children for Support.

Some time ago we published the proceedings in the case of The Allegheny County Home against certain parties, to compel them to refund to the Home certain sums expended in support of an indigent party for whose maintenance the respondents were held to be liable. The respondents raised the question that the Court had no power to compel parties to refund sums already expended—the law making provision only for future support of indigent persons. The point was ably argued by Robt. Woods, Esq., for complainant, and by Thos. M. Marshall and D. Reed, Esqs., for respondents. Judge Stowe recently filed an opinion in the case, which we append below, and which will be found worthy of general perusal:

Allegheny County Home vs. Marlatt, et al. This is a proceeding by the Allegheny County Home against Mrs. Jane Marlatt, Mrs. Perchment, wife of John Perchment, of Wilkinsburg; Mrs. Kincaid, wife of Philip Kincaid, of Pittsburgh, children, and Dr. John Perchment and Dr. A. Perchment, grand children of a certain Joseph Harrison, wherein it is alleged that said Harrison, by virtue of an order of relief issued by two Justices of the Peace, on the 9th day of June, 1864, became a charge on the complainant, and remained so till the 7th day of February, 1865, when he died; that the sum of thirty-eight dollars and fifty-six cents had been paid and incurred for the maintenance, &c., of said Harrison by said complainant, and this Court requested to order that the respondents pay to it the said sum of money, with costs, &c. Mrs. Kincaid was dead long before this proceeding was instituted, and indeed long before the proceeding before the two Justices, and therefore is no party to this proceeding, although her husband has appeared and put in an answer. The respondents served have severally appeared and put in answers.

They do not deny the facts alleged by complainants, but allege, among other things, that this Court has no power to do as requested, the act of Assembly giving us jurisdiction in such cases being limited entirely to future support and not extending to what has been expended previous to the institution of the proceedings in court. This is the only question worthy of consideration raised by the answers, and which we feel called upon to notice; all other matters tending to show how much one did, and how little another did: how kind one was, and how cruel another was, before Harrison became a charge on plaintiff, are of no importance in the decision of the case and only serve as another illustration of how prone many are to neglect in their poverty those who gave them birth.

Under the acts of Assembly of 13th of June, 1836, and 15th of April, 1857, it is clear that the court may order a sum for the relief and future maintenance of a poor person; but there is no specific provision conferring power to compel payment to the Overseers of the Poor of sums of money expended or liabilities incurred for relief and maintenance afforded prior to the proceedings in court, and a construction of the statutes, such as ordinarily obtains, would seem to decide this case against the plaintiff.

But the case of Hague vs. the Overseers of the Poor of the City of Pittsburgh, decided by the Supreme Court, at No. 41 September and October term, 1852, is exactly the case in hand, so far as this point is concerned, and rules it in favor of the complainant.

There the Court of Common Pleas decreed the defendant to pay for past support furnished by the Overseers, as well as a certain amount for future support. And while it is true that the manuscript decree of Judge McClure shows that after it was written, fixing as it did a specific sum for the past support, so much as fixed the amount to be paid for that purpose was stricken out by the Court. The decree as made and entered of record, as appears by the docket entries in the case, and by the original order as filed, was, that the plaintiff in error, the defendant in the Court of Common Pleas, should pay to the overseers the amount expended by them for the past support of the pauper.

The second exception filed by the counsel for defendant below is, that the Court had made a decree for past support, and we must suppose that it was brought clearly to the notice of the Supreme Court, and duly considered. At all events the Judge deciding the case in that Court refers to the fact that such an order had been made, and says that it was improper, and affirms the decree of the Common Pleas.

This authority is conclusive upon us, and renders it unnecessary to enter into any consideration of the act of Assembly bearing upon the question raised in this proceeding.

Certain it is that such should be the law, and it is sufficient for us to find it so decided by our superiors, without undertaking to find a sufficient reason for their conclusion.

As to which of the respondents have heretofore done the most toward supporting their father and grand-father, as already stated, is immaterial here; nor is it of any importance as this case stands that there are others not made parties who might have been.

It is enough that there are parties to this record who are responsible to plaintiff, and if they should herein be compelled to pay what others were liable for, it is quite possible that they may have a remedy against such others for their share; but whether or not, such liability cannot be set up here as a defense.

The amount to be paid to complainant in this case must be divided equally between Mrs. Jane Marlatt and Mrs. Perchment, wife of John Perchment. We do not think the children of the latter viz: Doctors John and A. Perchment liable to contribute while their mother is living and of sufficient ability to pay.

And now, July 27, 1867, this case having been duly considered, it is now ordered and decreed that the respondents in the above stated case, Mrs. Jane Marlatt and Mrs. Perchment, wife of said John Perchment, do forthwith pay to said Allegheny County Home the sum of $28.56-100, with interest from the bringing of this suit, together with the costs of this proceeding, in equal proportions.

The Original French Document Arrived.

"Je certifie que la premiere medaille en or pour les pianos Américains a été donnée à l'unanimité à Mr. Steinway, par le Jury de l'Exposition Internationale. Class 10, premiere sur la liste.

Le President:
MELINET.
GEORGES KASTNER,
ED. HASLICK,
I. SCHIEDMAYER,
AMBROISE THOMAS,
F. A. GEVAERT."

TRANSLATION.

I certify that the First Gold Medal for American Pianos has been unanimously awarded to Messrs. Steinway by the Jury of the International Exposition.

First on the list in Class X.

MELINET,
President of International Jury,
GEORGES KASTNER,
AMBROISE THOMAS,
ED. HANSLICK,
F. A. GEVAERT,
I. SCHIEDMAYER,
Members of the International Jury

The original certificate, together with "the original catalogue of awards," in which the name of STEINWAY & SONS is recorded first on the list, can be seen at the Steinways' ware rooms, New York, and facsimile copies of the same at H. Kleber & Bro.'s, the sole agents, ware rooms, 122 Wood street.

The above document settles the question finally and conclusively as to which are the best pianos of the world, and which, as such, received the first prize over all others at the Paris Exposition. In view of this decision, which is a fatal blow to the aspirations and pretensions of the contending Boston house (Chickering & Sons) the attempt of the latter to cover up their defeat and divert public attention from the only recognized authorities by ostentatiously parading a monarchical toy conferred outside of the Exposition, appears as puerile as it is ineffectual. Although the great popularity and fame of the Steinways is not the result of medals, (or honorable or dishonorable "crosses") but of the acknowledged superiority of their Piano-Fortes, yet it is gratifying to know that the highest musical authorities of Europe unite with us in according to them the first and highest place on the list of the piano manufacturers of the world.

Fatal Accident—Two Men Killed.

We gather from the evening papers of yesterday the particulars of a fatal accident which occurred at Lock No. 4, on the Monongahela river, on Wednesday, which resulted in the death of two men, and the serious injury of a third. A number of men were engaged in repairing the lock, which has been out of working order for some time past, and had erected a temporary scaffolding near the top, on which was placed a quantity of sand and cement. A rain came up, and the men took shelter under the scaffold. Shortly afterwards, the rain having increased the weight of the sand and cement, the platform gave way, crushing those who had taken shelter under it. An old man named John Wilcox was so bruised and crushed that he died in a short time. Henry Molch had his spinal column broken about the centre, and died from the effects of his injuries yesterday. He was an unmarried man, about thirty years of age, and had but lately arrived in this country from Germany. A German named Godfrey Kothel, had his back crushed, causing him intense pain, but he is not dangerously injured. There were others under the covering, but they escaped unhurt.

Rather Snaky.

The Venango Spectator is responsible for the following: "Mr. Samuel Hazlet, while in the woods near Tionesta, Forest county, one day last week, found himself in the midst of a den of snakes, hissing and writhing at his feet. Escape being impossible, Mr. Haslet went at the serpents with a club. The battle raged for three quarters of an hour, when the surviving snakes sought their holes, leaving nineteen dead rattlesnakes, eleven copperheads and one monstrosity of an unknown species, torn to pieces on the ground. The stench was horrible, and Mr. Haslet on his return to town, was covered with blood and other evidences of the contest. It was not a very good day for snaking, we suppose, or Mr. H. would have done better."

Wanted Furniture.

J. R. Shulzer, of the firm of Kameron & Shulzer, who keep a house furnishing establishment on Penn street, made information against J. R. Morgan for obtaining goods under false pretence. Morgan keeps a hotel on Wood street, and the prosecutor alleges that he bought of the firm four hundred and eighty dollars worth of house furnishing goods, fifty dollars worth of which he took possession of and carried away, alleging that he owned the property in which he resided and had money in the German National Bank, all of which representations were false and fraudulent. He was arrested and held in five hundred dollars for a hearing.

The Most Wonderful Medicine of the Age.

The extraordinary cures performed by DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER entitles it to a more than common notice. For the past year it has effected cures of diseases which had baffled the skill and science of the most learned and scientific medical men, and it has done so in pursuance of a wonderful virtue which DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER ALONE POSSESSES!

It is one of that class of medicines known as alterative or entrophic, and by a slow but sure process, it gradually brings up the strength of the human system, to the health standard, and to a condition strong enough to throw off disease, and establish the healthy standard. It will, after the use of a few bottles, place the stomach in a condition to master and digest the food, and prepare it into chyle, which is at once carried into the circulation of the blood, and that good blood, of a fit quality to rebuild the constantly changing human body. Dr. Keyser, in the introducing of his Blood Searcher seems to have comprehended the great plan of waste and repair, in the carrying on of the functions of health and life, the rebuilding of the tissues, the supply of membranes, muscle, bone and nerve matter, where the proper quantity of iron or potassa, or phosphorus, or sulphur is needed in the human organism. DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER gives to the system the power to select these elementary principles from the food that is taken into the stomach. It places the stomach itself in the highest state of health. It strengthens the liver, and enables it to filter the bile or gall from the blood, and thereby places the liver in a healthy and proper working condition. It heals all the sores in the bowels and inside the body, as readily as it does ulcers on the legs, or cancer or scrofula, or tetter on the skin. It heals sore or diseased kidneys, and stimulates them to a faithful fulfilment of their proper functions in the human system, and through that channel eliminates all poisonous and morbid matter, which, if allowed to remain in the system, would be productive of rheumatism, neuralgia, and hundreds of aches and pains which afflict more than one-half of the human family. Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher cleanses out the glands, acts on the skin, and restores its proper action when obstructed by colds and exposure.

There is no chronic disease that will not be benefitted by taking half a dozen bottles of DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER. Witness the many cures it has made in the vicinity of Pittsburgh alone, some of them after years of pain and suffering, and of a character to compare favorably with the most astonishing cures ever recorded in medical annals.

All the cures that we have published time and again, have been made by it, and anything else sold under the name of Blood Searcher, upon the merits of these cures, is a fraud and cheat. Hundreds of persons are deceived in this way by spurious trash, that has no more affinity for the blood of man than the acrid poisons it proposes to remove. A lady whose child we are curing, told us recently that she had sent to as many as half a dozen places to obtain DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER, and was met with the answer, "this other was just as good." Another lady, who was cured by four bottles of Dr. Keyser's, told us she had spent seventeen dollars for as many bottles of spurious, which had done no good. No one who will reflect for a moment can help but detect the motives which lead to such imposition. One man told us boldly that he didn't care what merits were contained in it, he would sell that on which he could make the most money; as if human health and life were to be weighed in the scales with dollars and cents. Reader, when you want Blood Searcher, cut this out, and ask for Dr. Keyser's, and take no other!!!

Prepared and sold at the Doctor's great Medicine Depot, 140 Wood street, or Keysers' Medical Department for Chronic Diseases, No. 120 Penn street, corner of Evans alley, from 9 A. M., until 4 P. M.

Triumph Oil Company.

The affairs of this Company have grown so important, that notwithstanding its wells are one hundred and eighty miles distant by the route traveled from the city, frequent visits are made by the President and occasional visits by committees of the Directors. Four members of the Direction returned last night from "Triumph City," where they spent a couple of days in a careful investigation of the extensive operations of the Company. We learn from them that the numerous lessees are actively at work. Not less than fifty "rigs" are upon the company's lands, all, with two or three exceptions, busily at work, either pumping or drilling, no one doubting that at the customary depth oil will be found. Similar activity is observed on some of the conterminous territory. Altogether the "Tideoute," or "Dennies Run" district of which the Triumph Co's. tract is the central figure, is the richest and most remarkable oil district on the globe. The committee before mentioned, we understand, will recommend the directors to anticipate the period of the September dividend by paying it on the 1st instead of the 15th. It appears that the October dividend is also in hand, but as the Company very wisely prefers distributing the profits at uniform intervals, in about equal sums, and as the receipts are liable to variations, and to interruptions in the winter months, a fund will be accumulated, to cover such contintingencies. But for this prudential policy, a dividend of ten per cent might have been declared and paid in September. It gives us much pleasure to record the success of the Triumph Company. We would be glad to chronicle a like "fine time" for numerous other oil companies we wot of.

Before the Mayor—Important Affidavits.

I have been deaf in my right ear for some seven years, for five years entirely deprived of its use, accompanied by a discharge. Dr. Aborn commenced treating me on Monday, the 5th of August. I can now hear a watch tick distinctly, the discharge is cured, and I consider myself in a fair way of recovery.

G. E. NORTH,
Proof Reader Commercial,
76 Fifth street, Pittsburgh.

In 1861, I was seized with a violent attack of deafness, while engaged as an officer in the Union army, which increased to such an extent that I was incapacitated for military duties. Had tried treatment without effect, until last Friday, when I placed myself under the treatment of Dr. Aborn, No. 134 Smithfield street, whose treatment gave me immediate relief, and I have been improving ever since. When commencing his treatment I could not hear a watch tick, of which I am no more deprived, which is the result of his scientific and skillful treatment.

THOMAS WILLIAMS,
Steubenville, Ohio.

For three years I have been painfully afflicted with a deafness in my right ear accompanied by singing and roaring sounds; which was exceedingly disagreeable. By one operation, in the space of three minutes' time, Dr. Aborn, this morning, restored my hearing and removed all the unpleasant sensations.

Pittsburgh Steam Brick Manufacturing Company.

There has of late been quite a revolution worked in the manufacture of brick. The old and laborious system of moulding by hand has been supplanted by machinery, and the great building commodity is furnished at much cheaper prices than of yore. The quality of brick manufactured is much superior too, being more solid, even and true. With an extensive capital, the Pittsburgh Steam Brick Manufacturing Company has been organized and is now in successful operation. The works are adjacent to the City Farm, on the Monongahela river where a very superior soil is obtained, and the bricks turned out by machinery in fabulous quantities per day are very superior. The best pressed bricks extant are furnished in any quantity at the slightest notice by the Company, whose office is located over the Peoples' National Bank, corner of First and Wood streets. The office is open for business from half past eight to nine o'clock every morning. We invite the attention of builders, contractors and others to the inducements for their patronage offered by the Pittsburgh Steam Brick Manufacturing Company.

The Continental.

That the Continental Saloon is situated on Fifth street, next door to the Postoffice, is a fact apparent to all who travel the street, and that Holtzheimer, the worthy proprietor, is a gentlemanly, agreeable and accommodating fellow, is a fact well known to all his friends. But the most apparent, well known, and self evident facts within our knowledge are that the Continental Saloon has no superior, as a restaurant, in the city, and that as a caterer no man understands his business better than Holtzheimer. His tables are always supplied with the best the market affords, which is served up in a style unsurpassed in the city. To be satisfied that all we have said of the Continental and its proprietor is strictly true, it is only necessary to call in and take dinner.

Improvements.

Notwithstanding the high price of labor and building material, there are a greater number of new buildings in course of erection in the city at present than at any previous time for a number of years. There is scarcely a street in the city that is not more or less obstructed by building material, and it appears they will never be free from the obstructions, for as soon as one building is completed another is begun. We cannot account for this building mania, unless it is to be attributed to the extremely low rates at which brick is being sold by the Chartiers Valley Brick Company, at the corner of Try and Fourth streets, for which S. Y. Kennedy is agent. See advertisement in another column.

Wholesale and Retail Groceries.

Elsewhere we publish the business card of Messrs. Gray & Armstrong, wholesale and retail grocers and dealers in choice teas, flour, bacon, lard, fish and produce generally, No. 22 South side, Diamond, one door west of Federal street, Allegheny. Dealers who buy to sell again will find in store a very superior and fresh stock of goods at prices as advantageous and inducing as can be obtained at any other place in either city. The retail department is equally well supported, and housekeepers will consult their interests by favoring this firm with a purchasing visit. We earnestly commend this establishment to our readers for their patronage.

New Hotel in Birmingham.

Mr. Martin Schafer is having erected on the corner of Denman and Washington streets, in the borough of Birmingham, a building designed for hotel purposes. It is fairly under way, the brickwork having been commenced within a day or two, and the work will be pushed forward rapidly with a view to the completion and occupancy of the building during the coming fall.

Affray in Allegheny.

An affray occurred on Allegheny avenue, First ward, Allegheny, between Thomas Hughes and Lewis Foquett, in which Foquett received a sound threshing, and from what we can learn of the case, he justly deserved it. Foquett, it appears, was on a drunk and was "spoiling" for a fight. He met Hughes and insisted on fighting him, and notwithstanding the efforts of the latter to put him off, Foquett struck him knocking him down. Hughes got up and Foquett came at him a second time but not with the success of the former effort, as he was himself knocked down and completely pummelled by Hughes. Foquett, we are informed, was not stabbed as stated in the morning papers, nor did he receive any injuries except such as were inflicted on him by Hughes. We are informed by an eye witness of the affair that Hughes did all in his power to keep out of the fight, and that he was excusable in whipping Foquett.

Fatal Accident.

A distressing and fatal accident occurred in Duquesne borough, yesterday, resulting in the death of Martin Bell, a laborer, residing in the Third ward, Allegheny. The deceased was engaged in digging a cellar in Duquesne borough, in which he was blasting rock. Yesterday about eleven o'clock, he put in a blast which did not go off, and went to work to put in another beside it. About three o'clock he had the second blast ready and put it off, after which it is supposed he went into the cellar to see what effect it had, when, by some means, the fire came in contact with the first charge he put in, which exploded, blowing the whole top of his head off. Coroner Clawson was notified and held an inquest, the jury rendering a verdict in accordance with the facts. The deceased leaves a wife and three children in destitute circumstances.

J. M. Brush & Son's Boiler Works.

The card of Jared M. Brush & Son, manufacturers of steam boilers, oil stills, tanks, and sheet iron works, &c., appears in another column. This establishment has been long and favorably known in the business community, and in their line enjoy a high reputation. Their boilers are everywhere regarded as among the best in the market and the same may be said of all their manufactures. They use nothing but the very best quality of iron, and employ the most careful and skilled workmen, so that everything turned from their establishment bears the impress of superiority. The works and office of the firm are at No. 61 Penn street.

Assaulted a Woman.

Catherine Lauler, of West Pittsburgh, made information before Alderman Donaldson yesterday, against Thomas and John Kelly, of that place for assault and battery. She alleges that the defendants came into her house and abused her, and that one of them struck her over the head with a shovel. The parties were arrested and held for a hearing.

Forcible Argument.—Maria A. Johnson and Mrs. Shehan are residents of Gibbon street, in the Eighth ward, where they have for some time past occupied the same house, living peaceably and quietly together until yesterday, when something occurred out of the usual routine, which resulted in a quarrel between the two. Mrs. Johnson having some business, left the house, and on her return found Mrs. Shehan at the door with a loaded revolver, threatening to shoot her if she attempted to enter. She made information against Mrs. Shehan for surety of the peace. She was arrested and gave bail for a hearing.

Serenade.—We are indebted to the Metropolitan Band, of Allegheny City, for a delightful serenade Thursday evening. The band, which is composed of a number of excellent performers, is led by Mr. Shipman, one of the best violinists in the city. Their music is well arranged, and was performed in a manner that would do credit to a first-class orchestra. The gentlemen have our thanks for the favor, and we hope to hear from them frequently. Call again, gentlemen, we will be pleased to see you at anytime. Verily, your "music hath charms."

Chill rolls, mill castings and roll lathes are cast at the shortest notice on the most reasonable terms. The members comprising the firm are well known business gentlemen in every way worthy the confidence and patronage of the community.

Surety of the Peace.—Thomas Dwyer made information before Alderman Morrow yesterday against Mary Murphy and Ann White, for surety of the peace. He states that he boards in the same house with defendants, on Tunnel street, and that he has been informed they have been plotting together to give him a dose of poison. That his informant heard them arranging a plot to put the poison in his tea. Warrants were issued.

Water Pipe Extension.—Within a few days considerable extensions of water pipe have been commenced in the borough of Birmingham, causing some interruption in the supply to consumers. Workmen are now engaged in putting down pipe on Magee street, leading to the bridge, and it is designed to carry it on the bridge, with convenient arrangement for use in case of fire.

Trimbles Varieties.—This popular and now only place of public amusement in the city, is drawing crowded houses. The entertainment offered is of first class style, and the season has been very auspiciously inaugurated by the clever managers H. W. Williams & Co. To-night a mammoth programme is offered, including for the last time the "Shadow Pantomime."

Threatened to Scald Her.—Fanny Carlin alleges that John Leaky and wife, residents of the Third ward, Allegheny, threatened to scald her, and to prevent them from so doing made information before Alderman Mullen, yesterday, against them for surety of the peace. They were arrested and held in $500 each for a hearing.

A MATTER OF ECONOMY.

Measures for saving money are generally approved if they are at the same time productive of happiness and good to ourselves or others. That there is very great want of economy, in the individual, family and state, no one will for a moment question. Persons are saving in some respects and wasteful in others, or "economical in spots," as we have heard it expressed. Children sometimes will by hard toil, accumulate a little fund, saving all they can get in all honest ways, and spend it all foolishly in an hour. And children of a larger growth do the same thing. A State may, by its officers, denounce the wrong of a House of Refuge in an extra expenditure of ten cents per week in the comfort of the unfortunate boys and girls committed to its care, and by its Legislature recklessly squander millions for the benefit of some wealthy individual or corporation. In some cases, people seem to think the value of an article depends solely on the cost. Many a man who has rushed into oil speculations has been convinced of the fallacy of this in some respects, and yet they act on it in others. Let us apply this to the matter of education. I have a son whom I wish to educate. If I retain him at home I can watch over his health, his habits, and his associates, and know from day to day what he is doing and what progress he is making at an average cost of less than one hundred dollars per year. Before his health or his morals shall be fully revived I can know it. I shall not be compelled to rely on interested reports of distant teachers who may not know the facts and may conceal a part of what they do know. The statements of sore eyes caused by hard study by night I shall not be compelled to rely on. If I do my duty I shall know the truth. I shall not, it is true, be able to say my son is being educated abroad in a popular institution whose reputation is made. The ability to say this is not what I desire; it is the thing itself, the education which will make a useful and noble man of him which I desire. Intelligent and sensible people know well it is the article itself that is wanted, not the name of the place where it is manufactured. What do I care whether a silk dress is bought at Stewart's or Smith's, if it is the thing. Yet there are silly people who tell these things. If I send my son to a fashionable place, his morals may be ruined, his time wasted, and his money squandered, and it will cost me, at least on an average, eight hundred dollars a year, and I shall have this advantage, that I shall not for years know his errors. He can conceal them from me, on his short visits to his home. Very many spend more than the sum named, say $1,200 or $1,500. If then I educate him at home I shall save in money, the smallest item that shall enter into the calculation, $700 per year. If I have three sons to educate I shall save $2,100 per year, and in four years this will be $8,400. Suppose, then, that there are two hundred to be so educated in our cities who would be sent abroad if they could not have the proper advantages at home, the saving in one year would be to our cities $140,000, and in twenty-five years $3,500,000. But this is not all. Our cities are not to last only twenty-five years but, as we hope, for centuries, and with an ever-increasing population demanding education. Besides, if the supply is furnished at our doors, while the expenses and risk of going are not incurred, many will be able to avail themselves of these advantages who, otherwise, would be unable to do so. A large class of the most deserving, who will make the most useful and energetic men, will be educated. It is a well known principle of political economy that the cheaper the article the greater is the demand. One hundred times as many may purchase an article for $100 as would for $600.

And in education as in manufacturing, there are other great advantages besides the simple one of procuring the article when it is made. There are many connected with a large institution who will exact an elevating influence on a community. If well endowed there will be able Professors in their several departments whose influence will be felt in every walk of life, awakening an interest in education and affecting every department of learning. The buildings, the cabinets, the libraries, the apparatus and the sectors will speak. Pittsburgh takes its character from its manufactures. New Haven from its educational institutions. While enjoying one shall we wholly neglect the other? All classes in a community and all professions will be elevated by a well conducted and well endowed institution of learning. Then as a plain matter of economy and an evident matter of improvement to our cities in all respects, we should furnish these advantages of higher education to all our youth, rightly endowing the university we have so long neglected to our shame and our detriment. Duty to our sons, the interests of our cities, in all respects, and our city pride, demand it. But who shall do it? Shall we point to one man of large wealth, and say it is his duty, and then meanly accuse him of acting selfishly in so doing? The men of large wealth are not always the most liberal. Some such blessed men we have here. All should unitedly join in the call for $500,000 for this most worthy enterprise. As citizens we shall all be benefitted. As parents we can better educate our sons, or if we have none, we can thus aid others and increase the intelligence and honor of our cities. We may sow for others to reap, as we ourselves may have reaped what others have sown before us. We are not to look at this matter simply as a matter of debt and credit. Had others done so we should have been denied many of the privileges we have enjoyed; and we should have too much city pride, and too much self respect to be willing that all the advantages of higher education enjoyed by our youth should be in distant towns and cities, in institutions endowed by the generosity of others.

IN OUR LAST ISSUE we re-published from the Philadelphia Press a letter written from this city to the editor of that journal, in which the writer showed that our candidate, Judge WILLIAMS, never had any connection with the Allegheny county "repudiation movement," as charged by some of the Eastern Democratic journals. "R. P. N.," feeling justly aggrieved that his language should be misconstrued into a disparagement of Hon. THOMAS WILLIAMS, sends us the following communication on the subject:

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE:—A brief note of mine to the Editor of the Philadelphia Press, in reply to a letter received making inquiry as to Judge Williams' record on the Repudiation question, appeared in your paper of yesterday morning, accompanied by certain comments, intimating that a disparagement is intended "of the high moral character and standing of our excellent Representative in Congress."

The Press note qualifies repudiation as a "disreputable movement." Hon. Thos. Williams himself knows that a large class of the community always regarded the measure in that light, but he also knows that, so far as the writer of this article is concerned, his conviction all the while through the exciting time of that controversy, was that his (Mr. W's) course was from beginning to end—viewed from his own stand point—consistent, unselfish and conscientious. I can, myself, bear testimony to the fact that Mr. Williams opposed very zealously, and on repeated occasions, the first steps taken in this direction. Its earliest suggestion encountered his strong protest, at a time when everybody else, almost, was madly in favor of it—before as well as after the meeting was had, upon the strength of whose action the issue of the Bonds was finally determined upon. The ruling proportion of the party which seconded his action, however, are not entitled to the same respect because many of the most active among them had been equally energetic on the other side in the mass-movement which brought the trouble about. Mr. Williams, I believe, erred, but he erred with a conscience true to itself, and therefore lies not within compass of the opprobrium which attaches to leading others, who found no iniquity in the matter until the bonds were sold, the roads built (or the funds exhausted on them) and they called upon to face the responsibility of a costly and unprofitable investment. This course of action was the one which made the ugly features in the case, and which certainly may be fairly characterized as a "disreputable movement."

Unfortunately and unfairly for Mr. Thomas Williams, he came to be known publicly as the leader of the Repudiation movement. He was saddled with all of its unpleasant responsibilities—made the subject of reproaches applicable to the operatives under him only—and so forfeited the esteem of many, especially beyond the mountains, who, had they understood his history better, would have reckoned the less harshly of him. It was only because of this popular identification of him with Repudiation, that reference in the Press note was made to "an unfortunate co-incidence of names."

I appreciate too highly the talents, the services, the incorruptible honesty, and the unswerving truthfulness of Mr. Williams to his political faith, the faith of the people whom he represents, to say anything which could be interpreted to his disparagement, at home or abroad.

R. P. N.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

It is well and truthfully said that, "facts are stubborn things." Facts of the most convincing character are at our command to show that salaried men are the most poorly paid of any other class of persons; especially ministers, teachers and clerks, and never more so than since the inflation of the currency, during the past few years. Almost every person in the various branches of manufacture, and mercantile life, of late years, have had unprecedented prosperity, and on a scale of magnitude, witnessed in no other country. Artisans, and even laborers, have enjoyed high wages, double and treble what they had received previous to the war. By this means too, those engaged in the mechanical arts, and inferior departments of labor have been lifted up to a higher and more commanding level in social life. This is all well enough and as it should be, to enable tradesmen and other employees to elevate themselves in culture and social position. But the fact should not be overlooked that the class of persons we have named have expended a large amount of time, money, and mental labor to prepare them for the positions they occupy. Not so, strictly speaking, with the mechanic or laborer. While the former is acquiring the mastery in some branch of the mechanical arts, he is also receiving compensation, and the latter, without any preliminary training, is enabled to acquire immediate advantage from his labor. Then, too, the minister or teacher, by his vocation, closes the door to the success which attends professional life, by his work being restricted to a limited field of duty. Professional men, however, usually reap a rich fruitage from the time, money and labor they have spent in fitting them for professional life. But we purpose to speak more particularly of ministers, whose duty also involves teaching of the highest type, as well as preaching. Clergymen have generally received small salaries, and when the rebellion broke out and prices went up, while the compensation of others was gradually rising with the advance of everything, their claims were overlooked, until every other class of persons had received an equivalent for their services. Losing sight of the outlay incident to the preparation for the ministry, clergymen receive compensation, meagre as it has heretofore been, only for actual service, and without reference to the past or the future. Rare instances have transpired within a brief period, of ministers being presented with a sum of money, or gift of property, for use in old age. But how very few ministers of the many are remembered by their congregations. We hope hereafter to chronicle more instances of this kind.

Six months ago a call was made through the Independent, by Dr. Walker, of Massachusetts, for clergymen of different denominations to favor him with a statement of their salaries in 1860 and 1865, in order to ascertain the advance made in consequence of the depreciation in the currency. Last week's issue of the Independent contains the results of the call, from which it appears that one thousand ministers of eight different denominations, residing in eighteen States, responded, showing their incomes ranged from $300 to $5,000 per annum. Of this number four hundred and fifty furnished such explicit details which show the following results: Average salaries in 1860 $768.68; average salaries in 1865, $907.82; average gratuities per year, $37.77; average advance in salaries from 1860 to 1865, 17.4 per cent.; average advance in salaries and gratuities, 21.7 per cent. From some portions of the country, the average of the remaining five hundred and fifty ministers was only 15 per cent., and on the whole about 20 per cent. extra, gratuities included. After a careful examination of all the facts, the following are the conclusions: 1. That salaries of clergymen have not been increased in proportion to the greater cost of commodities, the latter having advanced at least 100 per cent. 2. That salaries have not been increased as much as the wages of labor in general, because the latter advanced fifty per cent. between 1860 and 1865, as ascertained from various sources. 3. That salaries were not enhanced so much as the profits of trade and manufactures, which, between 1860 and 1865, are known to have increased some one hundred per cent.—that is, they were about doubled in amount. 4. As a conclusion, that the clergy, as a body, must have made a greater sacrifice of pecuniary interest than any other principal class of the community. Many other interesting facts might be drawn from this able article. "I spend the Sabbath day," said a godless man, "in casting up my accounts." "Yes," said a minister of Christ, who heard the sneering utterance, "and the day of judgment will be spent in the same way." The Presbyterian, after quoting the above remark and answer, says we venture to add that on that day we believe many accounts, entirely settled in this world, duly receipted, and finally forgotten, will be re-opened, and woe unto the man, or group of men, who will then be found to have ground the faces of poor ministers of the Lord Jesus Christ, or thought not of their straits in the time of their prosperity.

The dismissal of Rev. Rowland Conner, junior pastor of the School street Universalist Church in Boston, for preaching heretical doctrines and advocating ritualistic views, is likely to breed trouble in that denomination. The Springfield Republican thinks the result will the organization of a Free Universalist Church in Boston; possibly also a sharp division of the denomination into orthodox and liberal Universalists.

Twenty-three camp meetings are announced in the New York Advocate, varying from the 10th of this month until the same date in September. Tarentum Camp meeting near this city closed on last Thursday, and immediately thereafter the Albright Methodists, as they are sometimes called, composed of Germans, commenced a meeting, which will close sometime next week. Meetings of this character commenced on Thursday near McKeesport and Enon Valley.

Rev. Herrick Johnston, D.D., pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church of this city, in an address at the New York State Teachers' Association, took the ground that greater prominence should be given to the classics than to mathematics as a proper course of study, and better adopted to develop attention, taste, judgment—instruments most necessary to complete success in any department of active life. He thought children should commence the study of languages early in life. Boys should read Latin intelligently at twelve and Greek at fourteen. By these means the power of gaining knowledge is best acquired.

A Unitarian minister in the New England States thinks it is doubtful whether without our modern society, God can send upon society a greater continuation of curse, than a very eloquent preacher, a ten thousand dollar organ, and a superb opera choir.

It is probable the Centenary of Universalism in this country will be celebrated in 1870, being one hundred years since John Musrray, the father of the denomination, landed in this country. This body now comprises about seven hundred ministers and about five hundred organized societies. Of these considerably more than two-thirds are found in New England and New York. In New Jersey, which claims the honor of the "landing," there are but four societies and three ministers. It is said more than a million of dollars was raised by them last year for educational and missionary purposes, and for the erection of church edifices.

The Board of Managers of the Tract Society of the M. E. Church offer a premium of two hundred and fifty dollars for the best approved tract, not to exceed thirty-two pages, on the evils, physical, mental, moral and social, resulting from the use of tobacco.

The new Episcopal Divinity School at Cambridge, Massachusetts, is to open its course of instruction the coming autumn, and some of the appointed Professors are preparing to move upon the ground.

Says Zion's Herald, of Boston, a few active, fluent, healthy, middle-aged females (especially if well meaning) are enough to worry any young clergyman of rather weakly constitution into an early grave.

Progress of the Pacific Railway.

Dispatches from San Francisco give encouraging accounts of the progress and prospects of the western end of the Great Pacific Railroad. It will be remembered that Congress granted to the two principal companies—the Union Pacific and Central Pacific—the right to build their respective lines from opposite ends until they meet and connect. The former have nearly crossed the level plains of Nebraska, is rapidly approaching the outlying hills of the Rocky Mountain range; while the latter, it appears, is making equally gratifying headway. During this month it is expected the last and greatest of the tunnels on the western link will be opened, and the crossing of the dreaded Sierra Nevada Mountains be regularly made by the locomotive, into the Great Salt Lake Basin. This achievement of hewing and blasting a pathway through primeval granite barriers, although all included within 150 miles, is equivalent to more than 600 miles of ordinary railroad, in cost and resistance overcome. Upwards of $20,000,000 have been expended in the enterprise which includes, however, the equipment and materials for 150 miles additional. Eastward of the graded portion the line has been surveyed and located for 600 miles, developing an easy and favorable route, and it is believed that fully half of the distance between the Pacific coast and the Missouri river will be built by the Central Pacific Company, as they are favored by having their hardest work done, and by the presence of large numbers of cheap and serviceable Chinese laborers. It is assuring to be informed, also, that the business of the road is very large, the earnings for July being $175,000 in gold; while the operating expenses were less than $25,000.

The Company receives a large subsidy from the Government, and in order to push on the work with even greater energy, are offering their First Mortgage Bonds for sale, through Fisk & Hatch, their financial agents in New York, and our leading bankers, at rates very tempting to capitalists. The merits and advantages of the Central Pacific Railroad bonds are fully set forth in our advertising colums.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE

is prepared by the originator of the justly celebrated Coe's Cough Balsam. Mr. Coe has never prepared a medicinal article for public and general use but what has stood the strongest tests, and has always borne the palm of victory over every disease it has been certified to cure. Will you who are suffering from dyspepsia, indigestion, nausea, sick headache, cholera morbus, dysentery and general debility of the whole system, try one single bottle? We will never urge you to buy it, if we fail in this case. Our own knowledge of its merits, the united testimony of all who have ever tried it, the encomiums of hundreds of our own neighbors, your duty to yourself and the beneficial results, as certain as sunshine, all urgently, persistently urge you to try just one bottle. If what we say is not correct—if our statements concerning its wonderful virtues are not found to be true—if you do not say that the operation of the medicine is instantaneous and wonderful—we will renounce our profession as caterers to the public health, and retire from the field, admitting that we are incompetent to compound a medicinal preparation which would be entitled to your confidence.

THE POISONS OF THE DAY.

The late temperance investigations in Massachusetts have thrown a flood of light on the horrible abuses practiced in the liquor trade, and have at the same time demonstrated the absolute necessity for unadulterated diffusive stimulants for medicinal purposes. Clergymen of the highest standing, men of the highest rank in science, and philanthropists, who are above the reach of prejudice, have testified not only to the pernicious effects of the adulterated liquors of commerce, but also the efficacy of uncontaminated alcoholic tonics as remedial and restorative agents.

First on the list of this class of preparations, best known and most extensively used of all the stomachics of the day, stands HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This specific is the only representative of that absolutely pure article which eminent divines, chemists, physicians and social economists in New England have just declared not to be a proper subject for prohibitory legislation. The faculty proclaims by the mouths of its professors that a stimulant of this character is a medical necessity. HOSTETTER'S BITTERS satisfies all the requirements of science. Its alcoholic principle is free from the irritating constituents which analysis detects in even the best imported liquors, and the vegetable extracts with which it is medicated are among the best antidotes and restoratives that botanical science, in its world-wide research, has yet discovered. It is an indubitable fact that both constitutions and habits of body demand stimulation, and for all such a stimulant which combines anti bilious and slightly aperient properties with its tonic virtues is manifestly desirable.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone" on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten on my lungs. I knew that the popular mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to a discharge which I was constrained to believe was a salutary provision of Nature to get rid of some morbid condition in the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying to the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, J—— C——.

Dr. Keyser's consultation rooms are No. 120 Penn street, from 9 A. M. until 4 p. m.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE

RAILROAD,

THE WESTERN HALF OF THE

Great National Trunk Line Across the Continent,

Being constructed with the AID AND SUPERVISION OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, is destined to be one of the most IMPORTANT AND VALUABLE RAILROADS IN THE WORLD, as it is the sole link of communication between the Pacific Coast and the Great Interior Basin, and the

The present western terminus is at Sacramento, on the navigable waters of the Pacific, but it will ultimately extend from San Francisco across the richest and most populous parts of California, Nevada and Utah, contiguous to all the great Mining Regions of the Far West. The company have now built their line eastward until it shall meet and connect with the roads now building east of the Rocky Mountain ranges.

Assuming that they will build and control half the entire distance between San Francisco and the Missouri River, as now seems probable, the United States will have invested in the completion of 863 miles $28,000,000, or the average rate of $33,600 per mile, not including an absolute grant of 10,000,000 acres of the Public Lands. By becoming a joint investor in the magnificent enterprise, and by waiving its first lien in favor of the First Mortgage Bondholders, THE GENERAL GOVERNMENT, IN EFFECT, INVITES THE CO-OPERATION OF PRIVATE CAPITALISTS, and has carefully guarded their interests against all ordinary contingencies.

The Central Pacific Railroad enjoys all the privileges, grants, and subsidies conferred by the Acts of Congress upon the other parts of the through line, and, in addition several special, exclusive advantages applicable to the Western half:

HUGH McKELVEY, P.M.

District Court—The O'Hara Bench Warrant Case.

The case of Michael O'Hara, arrested on a bench warrant, issued at the instance of his late partner, J. H. Robinson, and Jas. Mellinger, a creditor of the firm, came up for argument in the District Court yesterday, on motion of defendant's counsel to quash the warrant, on the ground that the proceedings were in conflication with the jurisdiction of the United States Courts, under the general provision of the bankrupt law.

The argument was opened by Mr. Fetterman on behalf of the defendant. He claimed that the proceedings were in contravention of the provisions of the insolvent laws, and that the proper remedy was to proceed under the provisions of the bankrupt act, thus compelling Mr. O'Hara to go into bankruptcy. He contended that Mr. Mellinger sought to obtain a preference over other creditors, and that it was a new scheme for the settlement of the partnership difficulties. He cited various authorities in support of the position he had taken, and contended that the warrant should be discharged.

Mr. Acheson, on behalf of Mr. Mellinger, followed. He denied that there was any conflict of jurisdiction, but admitted that the State insolvent law must give way in any case to the general bankrupt law. He also denied the assertion that Mr. Mellinger sought to obtain preference over other creditors, for it did not appear that there were any others. The great question was whether the general bankrupt law abrogated the State insolvent law, and its system of arrest. He contended that it not only did not abrogate that law, but it also recognized it as being in full force. The debtor should not be allowed to shield himself behind such a technicality as that by which it was sought to have the warrant discharged.

Major Brown, counsel for Mr. Robinson, followed next. He contended that the Court should commit the defendant to jail until he paid this debt—which was not denied—or until proceedings were instituted against him in another Court. The defendant was not a bankrupt, but simply a fraudulent debtor, and if he were discharged he might escape beyond the provisions of any Court. He should, therefore, be held until he disgorged the amount of the debt, or gave such security for the disposition of his property as would prove satisfactory. The gentleman discussed the question of jurisdiction at some length. He claimed that the National and State acts were reconcilable in their provisions, and in no way inconsistent. The State law was merely a civil remedy for the protection of creditors, and was not, nor was it intended that it should be, a bankrupt law.

Mr. MacConnell made a few remarks on behalf of the creditors, but considered it unnecessary to go into an extended argument.

Judge Williams stated that the question to be considered was, whether, by the passage of the bankrupt law by Congress, the insolvent system of Pennsylvania had been abrogated or swept away!

Mr. Swartzwelder followed in behalf of the defendant. He stated that an answer to the allegations of the creditors had been prepared, but under the view taken of the case it was decided not to present it. He denied that Mr. Mellinger was the only creditor, and stated that the records would show that Judge Mellon was a creditor to the amount of $15,000, and that an action for debt, for about $3,000, had been instituted against Robinson & O'Hara by the Peoples National Bank. He then proceeded to discuss the question as to whether the bankrupt act contravened the State insolvent law, and argued at some length in the affirmative.

At the conclusion of the argument, the Court announced that a further hearing would be had in the case on Wednesday morning next at nine o'clock, in order that the authorities bearing on the point raised could be examined. Mr. O'Hara renewed his bail and was released.

Malicious Mischief.—Thomas Flinn appeared before Alderman Morrow, yesterday, and made information against James Stoner, charging him with malicious mischief. He alleges that the defendant, who is a teamster, drove his wagon against his fence and broke it down. Flinn, who resides in the neighborhood of Gazzam's Hill, makes information against him for surety of the peace, alleging that Stoner threatened to whip him and throw him into a pit at the brick yard, where it appears Flinn had followed him for the purpose of ascertaining his name. Warrants were issued in both cases.

Hydrophobia.—A gentleman named Williams, residing in Pleasantville, Pa., was bitten by a mad dog last Tuesday. A cow, which was also bitten, exhibiting signs of hydrophobia, was killed. The wound made upon Mr. Williams' leg has been painful but no signs of the dreadful disease have yet been manifested.

Fraud.—John Spencer, of the firm of Spencer & Co., Allegheny city, made information before Alderman Mullen, yesterday, against John Quinlan, charging him with defrauding the firm out of $20. A warrant was issued.

Wealthy.—The Clarion Banner says: "We are informed that not less than two millions and a half of Government bonds are held by citizens of this county, demonstrating the wealth of our iron region."

Died from a Snake Bite.—Mrs. George Mays, of Rockland township, Venango county, who was bitten by a Copperhead snake, about two weeks ago, died from the effects of the poison on Saturday last.

An effort is being made by the citizens of Titusville to secure the location in that city of a school for soldiers' orphans, as provided by the act of Legislature.

On Thursday last a little boy named McVickers was drowned in the Allegheny river, between Tionesta and Tidioute, while bathing.

—The most careful examination of the books of the Treasury Department at Washington thus far fails to show the overissue of a single dollar of currency or bonds. The repeated "alarming disclosures" are wholly unfounded, and it is to be regretted that their authors cannot be placed in the Penitentiary.

—The extension of thirty days to holders of August Seven Thirties has probably been made to accommodate the Treasury, which is unable to furnish small bonds. As the funding of the $451,000,000 of Seven Thirties properly precedes permanent resumption, the Treasury should at once reserve its arrangements by which funding of the second and third issues can be made without cost of transportation, and in addition give to brokers and bankers the extreme commission authorized by law. Funding must proceed at the rate of $41,000,000 per month to clear the calender of Seven Thirties on the 15th of July, 1868. If an offer to pay transportation on Seven Thirties to be funded does not attract them fast enough, an additional stimulus should be given by offering for six months to holders of Seven Thirties an absolute twenty year six per cent. bond, a proposal which would in a short time place the Treasury where no obligation against it calling for currency at maturity would remain. The plain legal tenders must be made equal to gold at the earliest possible period, and to reduce them to an amount where gold can be offered for them, any bond should be offered for Seven Thirties the law allows. The most active agent in reducing the premium on gold would be a money market at 7 per cent. on call on government stocks. This rate will move the crop of 1867 with proper dispatch, and put prices where the produce of our fields would pay for our importations.—N. Y. Tribune.

—The largest amount of wheat exported from the United States to England in the last ten years was in 1861, when it amounted to 10,866,891 cwt., and the smallest was in 1866, when it amounted to only 635,239 cwt.—the average for ten years being about four and a quarter millions cwt. These figures show that though our wheat exports is a matter of great importance as determining price, it is not of so much consequence in paying our foreign debts. While our cotton export frequently exceeds two hundred millions of dollars in value, our wheat supplies rarely net more than twenty million dollars.

—The New York Times, of Thursday, says: It was reported on the street that the August traffic is increasing on nearly all the roads, including about $50,000 for the first week on the New York Central, and further, that the Pennsylvania Central, Fort Wayne and New York Central had successfully, through Mr. Sloan, convened a friendly conference with the Erie managers, for the removal of all pretexts upon which the latter attempted a week or two ago, to break up the rates of business on the trunk lines. As it is found no stock-jobbing purpose was promoted by this threat, it is fair to presume that the difficulty, whatever it may be will now be accommodated.

PITTSBURGH METAL AND BLOOM MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

Office of the Pittsburgh Gazette,
Friday, August 16, 1867.

The market for Metal has been fairly active during the past week, and while the sales, in the aggregate, are not quite as large as those of last week, prices are firm and well maintained. The majority of the mills are undergoing repairs at present, but it is likely that the most of them will start up again within a short time, and many of the mill owners have been, and are still buying metal so as to have a fair stock upon starting up. There is also a continued fair demand for desirable brands of Foundry irons at stiffening prices. The sales were:

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

New York, August 16.—Dry Goods market not very active; still the demand is increasing, notwithstanding the very unfavorable weather, and some sales in certain classes of goods are being made. The market on the whole is strong, with a tendency toward hardening prices, although it is not yet apparently noticeable among jobbers. All low priced brown and bleached Muslins, especially the latter, are about ½c higher. Prints are more active and firm at 14½@16 for best makes. Print Cloths are held higher and firm at 9¼. Delaines offered more freely at 23 net. Alpaccas, Coburgs, all stuff goods and Italian cloths are quiet and firm, as are Silks, which are getting scarce and looking up.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, August 16.—Weather—clear and warm. Flour active and firm. Wheat less active; No. 1 spring $1,88@1,90; No. 2 $1,81, closing steady. Corn active and easier, closing quiet at 97¼@97½c for No. 1 and 92@94c for No. 2. Oats active; 57½@58c for No. 1 and 57@57½c for No. 2. Rye 5c higher; $1,05@1,11, closing steady at outside prices. Provisions dull and unchanged. Receipts—3,900 bbls. flour, 71,000 bus. wheat, 117,000 bus. corn, and 66,000 bus. oats. PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

Office of the Pittsburgh Gazette,
Tuesday, August 16, 1867.

The general markets are quiet and a little dull, and with a total absence of anything like a speculative feeling, the operations generally, are restricted entirely to supplying immediate wants, and are, therefore, of an unimportant character. In regard to values, there are no changes worthy of special notice, but the general impression seems to be that the "bottom has not yet been touched."

GRAIN—There is little or nothing doing in Wheat—the mills are buying sparingly at $2,10@2,15 for prime Pa. and Ohio Red. Oats steady with a fair demand but unchanged; sales of new at 50c, to arrive; 58@60c, on spot, and 65@68c, in store. Corn is less active and a shade weaker; sale of 1 car Shelled at $1. Rye is quiet; sale of 25 sacks, mixed, old and new, at $1,15. No established quotations for Barley, though we understand that brewers are unwilling to start on the new crop above 80c@85c.

FLOUR—The market continues quiet and unchanged. Small sales of old Spring and new Winter Wheat at $11@11,50, and fancy brands at $14, to the trade, and $15, in a retail way. Tennessee White Wheat Flour is being sold at at $12. Rye Flour, $8,25 for old.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet but steady at unchanged prices—12¼@12½c for Shoulders; 14¾@15½c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; and 21@21½c for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is still quoted at 13@12½c, in tierces, and 14c in kegs. Mess Pork, $24@24,50.

POTATOES—Continue dull but unchanged—small sales in store at $2 per bbl for prime.

GREEN APPLES—Are coming in more freely, and the market is a shade easier; we now quote at $4@6 per bbl, for fair to prime.

BUTTER—There is no abatement in the demand as yet, and the market is firm with a light supply of strictly prime. We continue to quote at 22@23c for prime firkin and pail Butter, and choice might bring 24@25.

CHEESE—Is steady but unchanged—regular sales at 12¾@16, according to quality.

EGGS—Continue exceedingly dull, and with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, we give 14@15c as the nominal prices for fresh packed.

HAY—Is selling at scales at prices ranging from $15@18 for fair to good, and $19@20 for strictly prime.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

Office of the Pittsburgh Gazette,
Friday, August 16, 1867.

CRUDE—The crude market presents no new characteristics worthy of special notice. There is but comparatively little doing—the demand for spot oil is exceedingly light, while for future delivery, buyers and sellers are apart, and, consequently, we have but few operations to record. Sale of 180 bbls, in bulk, on spot, at 11c; 4000 to be delivered between now and January 1st, seller's option, at 10½; 1000 do do, same delivery and option, at 10½; and 4000 to be delivered between now and December 1, seller's option, at 11¼. As will be observed, the last named sale, at 11¼, is considerably above the market, and a word of explanation is necessary. The party who sold the crude, contracted with the buyer for 3000 bbls refined for October, November and December, 1000 each month, at 33, which, also, is above the market. The transaction was perfectly legitimate, although it cannot be taken as an index of the market.

REFINED—The transactions in bonded oil were unusually heavy to-day, the reported sales reaching 15,000 barrels, in the aggregate, but compared with Thursday, the variation in prices is very slight. Spot oil is a shade lower, being quoted at 27c, against 27½c yesterday, while for the last four months, prices ruled a shade higher, sales having been made at 31½@32c. We have already explained the thirty-three cent sale, which will be found in the list of sales:

500 "	September, buyer	30c
2000 "	September to December, buyer	31½c
2000 "	1000 each September and Oct	31c
1000 "	September, buyer	30c
1500 "	Oct., November and December	32c
2000 "	1000 each Oct. and Nov	32c
3000 "	1000 each Oct., Nov. and Dec	32c
2000 "	last four months	31½c
500 "	September, buyer	30c
500 "	Spot—prime light straw to white	28½c

RIVER NEWS.

The party under Captain Roberts, engaged in making a survey of the Ohio river, under the direction of War Department, are rapidly completing the work on the Upper Ohio, and are expected at Louisville this month. The boat has nearly reached Cincinnati.

The New York, from Cincinnati, reached Cairo on the 10th, bound for St. Louis. She had very hard work rubbing over bars, but could'nt run 'em out. She reports the Champion still fast at Walker's bar. The Louisville, after resting two days at Shawnetown bar, was compelled to give it up, and worked off into deep water above the bar, and laid up to await a rise or the cutting out of the channel.

The Pauline Carroll. Great Republic and Shark, the latter a towboat, were all due at New Orleans last Saturday from St. Louis. The Great Republic was aground two hours at Bulletin bar, above Memphis and rubbed hard at President's Island. She is drawing "mark twain," and that is all the water other steamers report in the river.

Now and Then.—In 1824 Capt. Orrin Smith, who now lives in Galena, ascended the Mississippi in a batteau from St. Louis to Galena, and was forty days making the trip. He immediately commenced running a boat from Galena to St. Paul, which was about the first regular packet in the trade, from which grew the Minnesota Packet Company, which for many years after controlled the river trade in that section. In 1844 there were forty arrivals at St. Paul, which has steadily increased from time to time until they have reached fully one thousand. Thus it is that the ——"arts have every wild explored,

Traced every wave, and cultivated every house."

A small steamer has been built in New York her length being fifty feet and her tonnage twenty-four tons. The smallness of this steamer is not the wonder connected with her, but it is the fact that she is to be sent to San Francisco, California, taken around Cape Horn, and she is expected to make the passage by the use of sails. Her engine is ten horse power, and she can carry fifteen day's fuel. She cost nine thousand dollars, and is to be used as a family pleasure boat in the Bay of San Francisco.

Captain Stant Batchelor, of the Alice Dean, is "rusticating" at Indianapolis. We take the following from the Herald of Tuesday:

"The Ruling Passion Strong in Death.—Yesterday morning we espied our old friend Captain Batchelor, of the Alice Dean, standing on the bank of White River Canal, gazing on the placid waters, as much as to say, 'Wonder where I could make a landing here?' We kindly volunteered to tow him into port, which we accomplished without an accident, and after arriving safely smiled with him. May his stay in Indianapolis be a pleasant one."

The Cincinnati Gazette, of Thursday, has the following: The Ida Rees has withdrawn from the Portsmouth trade. We heard it stated that Captain Rees would load her for St. Louis. The owners of the Fire King contemplated a trip to Louisville with that boat, in order to give the citizens of that place an opportunity of observing for themselves the advantages of petroleum for fuel over all other kinds. It is possible a small party of gentlemen and ladies may be invited to make the trip on board of her. The Messenger, from New Orleans, should be at the wharf this morning.

Louisville, August 14.—The river has fallen nine inches. There are two feet nine inches in the canal, and three feet scant over Portland bar. The Steamers St. Charles and Liberty No. 2 will probably be put in the Louisville, White and Arkansas river line. Showery this morning, and cloudy in part. Thermometer 84.

St. Louis, August 14.—Austin, a steamboat agent, bought half the David Watts for $8,000. She enters the Upper Mississippi. The Tom Jasper arrived this morning. A spirited contest begins to-morrow between her and the Henry Johnston, in the Keokuk trade. It is rumored the Keokuk packets are prepared to spend $20,000 to oust the Quincy packet line. The Lizzie Gill comes off dock to-day—one of the largest New Orleans boats afloat. The Missouri, Platte and tributaries reported falling fast. The Little Rock and Zephyr, from Benton, will be here Saturday.

The impending contest between the Keokuk packet company and the Quincy packet company—the first an old and popular enterprise, and the latter young and vigorous, will apparently be the sharpest exhibition of the kind seen for years upon this section of the great river. Many of our readers may remember—we think it was in 1850—the excitement that was witnessed in the St. Louis and Keokuk trade, when the present old company, of which J. S. McCune is now, as he was then, the active and able head, was running the Die Vernon, Lucy Bertram, and Kate Kearney, and these boats were opposed in hot competition by the Mary Stevens, Monongahela and New England. There was much excitement for a time, and it was intensely amusing to many. But the superior metal of the old Keokuk line prevailed, and the Stevens, Monongahela and New England withdrew, sadly demoralized. The Harry Johnston has been placed in commission for the task of straightening out the new steamer Tom Jasper, of the new Quincy line, and she is considered a proper boat for the job. Capt. Anson Phillips, one of the wide-awake and courteous managers of the Keokuk line, took out the Johnston yesterday on a two hours run, accompanied by music and a select party. The machinery was found in complete order and worked charmingly. She is one of the handsomest steamers ever at this port, in model, contour, embellishment and furnish. Everybody seemed delighted with her cabin. Her cost is stated to be near $100,000. Her length is 250 feet; beam 42 feet; hold 6½ feet in depth. Her cylinders are 28 inches diameter, 7 feet stroke, which, with her ample steam generators, affords power enough to put her through the water at race horse speed. Her draft, light, is mentioned as 32 inches aft and 28 inches forward. The Johnson and Jasper leave, we understand, at four this afternoon, for Quincy and all way landings.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

THE BANKERS' AND MERCHANTS'

SECOND

GRAND PRESENTATION

WILL POSITIVELY TAKE PLACE

SATURDAY, August 24, 1867,

AT

IRVING HALL, NEW YORK.

This Grand Distribution of Prizes will be Conducted on the Mutual Benefit Principle.

A PRO RATA DISTRIBUTION OF PROFITS TO TICKET-HOLDERS!

Capital, - - $1,287,148.

TICKETS, ONE DOLLAR EACH,

And limited to One Million Two Hundred and Eighty-seven Thousand One Hundred & Forty-eight.

The Fairest and Most Impartial Plan of Presentation yet Offered to the Public.

A PRIZE WITH EVERY TICKET.

PROSPECTUS.

A number of the leading Bankers and Merchants of New York, in consideration of the great success which has attended many of the Charitable Presentation Entertainments of the day, have organized themselves into a company with the view of inaugurating an enterprise which, while it shall return them a fair profit, shall offer greater advantages to ticket-purchasers than any yet presented; and which, being conducted upon a perfectly legitimate and business basis, shall be free from those objectionable features which have characterized many of these enterprises.

To this end they have consigned the sale of tickets, and the registering of the same, to CLARK, WEBSTER & CO., Bankers and Managers, No. 62 Broadway, New York, who will keep the records in their custody until the day of the Grand Presentation Entertainment, when they will be handed over to a committee selected by the audience to make an impartial distribution of prizes.

A reference to the number of prizes and the general plan of distribution, given below, will convince even the most skeptical of the great advantages which will accrue to all who participate in the enterprise; and the Commercial and Financial standing of the company, and the Managers and Bankers thereof, will, they hope, prove a sufficient guaranty of the fairness and impartiality with which everything in connection with the scheme will be conducted, and that the interests of ticket holders will be most strictly watched over and guarded. In fact, it is the desire of the Managers to conduct every transaction for the mutual benefit of whoever shall purchase a ticket, and scrupulously to avoid any and everything which could in the slightest degree diminish the profits which are likely to accrue to all who invest.

Belting and Packing Office of W. & A. J. Packard,
Youngstown, Ohio, June 17th, 1867.

Messrs. Burke & Barnes, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Gentlemen—We ship you, to-day, by railroad, a safe of your make, for a few repairs. The safe went through the disastrous fire that occurred here on the 8th of March last, burning our store and warehouse, and we are glad to inform you that the papers taken out of the safe after the fire were not harmed in the least. We did not suppose any safe, especially so small a size, could possibly stand such a fire, and when we discovered the papers all safe and sound, we were agreeably disappointed. We will give you an order for a large size safe when we get into our new store. Truly yours,
